Linear Completes Consolidation Of International Electronics, Inc.

All IEI Operations Now Fully Transitioned to Linear

Carlsbad, Calif. (September 21, 2009) – Linear LLC, a market innovator in RF remote controls, access control and wireless security systems for residential and commercial applications, announces the completed transition of all business operations of International Electronics, Inc. (IEI) to Linear’s headquarters in Carlsbad. No changes have been made with the IEI sales team, which remains in place as the primary liaison for the IEI product family.

IEI, formerly based in Canton, Massachusetts, has been a leading manufacturer of electronic products for more than 30 years. Evolving to leverage both technology advances and the Internet, IEI’s product lines include access control solutions for single doors, PC based networked systems and embedded browser based integrated access control security management systems.

Now that the operations transfer is complete, Linear is committed to investing in improving its support functions. With additional staff, and ongoing training initiatives, both customer service and technical support staff will continue to raise support levels for IEI and Linear products.

“The transition of operations has been an excellent success story. Now, Linear is working hard to further develop its staff so that we may meet and exceed the highest standards in supporting customers,” says John LaFond, Director of IEI Sales. “The strengths of Linear as a whole are certain to benefit IEI customers as progress is made.”

For more information about IEI or Linear products, customers are asked to call (800) 421-1587 for product details and technical support. Or, view product information online at www.linearcorp.com or www.ieib.com.
