FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

New Integrated Access Control, Intrusion Detection and Video Surveillance Solution from Linear

ASIS 2011 Orlando, FL (September 19, 2011) – Linear LLC, the leading supplier of electronic products for a host of residential and commercial applications, introduces the eMerge 50 v4 series high performance integrated security system.

This embedded browser based product is based upon Linear's reliable and proven security product platform. The eMerge 50 supports all Linear EXN Expansion Nodes and MicroNodes and is compatible with legacy hardware.

Ideal for small to mid-sized commercial and high end residential applications, the eMerge 50 leverages Linear's robust browser managed software platform and allows expansion capabilities up to 14 doors in a single cabinet. The system integrates credential-based access control, intrusion detection, and video surveillance for a single facility, delivering a unified management and administration interface to a web browser.

Designed for easy installation and use, the eMerge 50 leverages a Linux operating system, a simple Wizard-driven setup, and supports all common web browsers as well as simultaneous users. The system is compatible with iPhone, iPad, Android and other mobile devices and tablets.

"The eMerge 50 focuses on simplicity. It is faster to setup and easier to operate than previous models", notes John LaFond, Director of Sales. "We are confident that our enhancements and commitment to quality will continue to provide greater profitability to our dealers."

The Linear eMerge 50 can be fully integrated with video, providing a 100% browser-based NVR solution (available in 2012). This capability provides security personnel with "one click" access to full motion video at the moment of an event or entry point activation.

Linear's eMerge 50 is 100% solid state with no moving parts that can break or wear out resulting in a lower total cost of ownership. The hardware has a calculated MTBF of 125,000 hours – well beyond the life of any hard disk or PC. Even better, eMerge 50 won't grow old because the system continually receives new features and product enhancement, available as optional software updates that can be installed with a single command.

An integrated 12v power supply with battery backup capability is included with the product.
