

Linear's XDM Product Line Discontinued

Linear's XDM Music Distribution System product line will be discontinued 3/1/2011 and availability is now limited to stock on hand.

There are nine models included in this product line. The affected models are listed in the table below. When a model is sold out, it will no longer be available.

Linear offers two alternative music distribution systems. The Encore system and the MDS-6A system. Both systems distribute multi-room audio to room controller/keypads over Cat-5 cable. Neither system currently provides intercom functionality.
