Exciting News - Linear Introduces Integrated APeX Controller to Commercial / Industrial Swing, Slide, and Barrier Gate Operator Product Lines

Effective Monday, April 25th, 2011, Linear's popular BGU and BGU-D families of Barrier Gate Operators will begin shipping with the groundbreaking APeX Controller.

Since its 2008 introduction in many of Linear's residential and commercial gate operators, the APeX controller has been renowned for reliability, flexibility, and simplicity. The fully integrated APeX controller has been receiving rave reviews from Linear's channel partners and professional installers for its many convenient features, including plug-and-play loop detector sockets, built-in surge protection and the industry's only integrated wireless radio receiver. The APeX controller allows for greater integration between the gate operator and the access control system, and Linear's partners have made it a part of their successful business strategy.

Affected Product Families & Integration Dates

Introduction of the APeX controller into the following additional Large, Barrier and Gate Operator family of products begins in early May 2011, and will be completed by the end of June:
