

International Electronics, Inc. News Release

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

International Electronics, Inc. Reports its Quality Management System in Compliance with ISO 9001:2000

Company Recommended to be Approved for Continued Registration to ISO after Annual Audit

CANTON, MA. January 8, 2007 – International Electronics, Inc. (IEI) (OTCBB:IEIB), a leading manufacturer of electronic access control and asset management products for industrial and commercial applications, has successfully completed its annual ISO audit of its quality management system and has been recommended for continued registration as an ISO 9001-2000 company.

IEI has been an ISO 9000 certified company since 1996 and an ISO 9001:2000 certified company beginning in 2003. The annual ISO audit was performed by independent auditor Lloyd's Register Quality Assurance Limited.

John Waldstein, IEI President and CEO said, "ISO registration is extremely important to our organization because it validates our commitment to company-wide quality. It also ensures that we employ continuous business improvements. Finally, because of the requirements to document customer feedback and customer satisfaction, we ensure customer involvement in this process. Continued ISO registration helps everyone in our organization focus on customer satisfaction and ongoing quality improvement."
